

Fernando Pessoa

Diary — Begun on March 15 th. 1906

Diary — Begun on March 15 th. 1906

March 15

Curso Superior: Geography and English. Biblioteca Nacional: read Aristotle's «Logic», translated by S. B. Saint-Hilaire. Returned home 3.30. Thought of dissertation on Female Rights and satiric plea for masculine prostitution. Began «The Door». Read book on Physiognomy. Dined 4.30. Walked out all evening till 9.30.

March 16

Holiday. King coming from Madrid. Read a little about Physiognomy. Biblioteca closed of course, so could not go there to continue reading «Organon». Hot day, very hot, just as yesterday. Read Tennyson. Walked out in the evening with Cochado Torres. Returned 9.30. Played quino up to tea-time. Difficulties in mental execution of Jacob Dumot. Thought of poem on Avenida, to be included in «Revolta».

1906

Textos Filosóficos . Vol. I. Fernando Pessoa. (Estabelecidos e prefaciados por António de Pina Coelho.) Lisboa: Ática, 1968 (imp. 1993): 104.