

David Merrick

MARINO

MARINO

Will[iam] — What is your pleasure, sir?

M[arino] — My pleasure, sir, is women.

Will[iam] — I mean, sir, what will you please?

M[arino] — At all reasons, friend, I whould please myself, being indeed the man I know best and know best therefore how to please. (Aside) I lie for the joking, I lie, for, by Heil, I know myself ill enough, and outside all illness what pleases me best.

s. d.

Pessoa por Conhecer — Textos para um Novo Mapa . Teresa Rita Lopes. Lisboa: Estampa, 1990: 133.